According to an opinion by Attorney General Daines, counties may make back assessments on property which has escaped taxation in former years. For instance, if taxes have not been levied on property for several years back, the property may be reassessed and the taxes for all the years collected.

Miss Philpha J. Earl was last Friday appointed postmistress at Mohrland to succeed H. E. Christensen, resigned, and will assume the duties of the office as soon as her bond is filed. Miss Earl is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Holly H. Earl of Scofield and a sister of Mrs. J. H. Treloar of Mohrland.

Numerous Eastern Utah corporations are being advertised in Salt Lake's Tribune, under a proclamation from Gov. William Sney, for delinquent corporation taxes which were due last November. Delinquents have until April 30, next, to pay up and be reinstated, otherwise they will surrender their charters.

The case of the Pleasant Valley Coal company, the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad company and the Utah Fuel company against Truman A. Ketchum to quiet title to a hundred and sixty acres of land where the town of Castle Gate stands comes up for hearing in the federal court at Salt Lake City on the 19th of April, next.

Emil Scallo, about 24 years of age, was hauled in the county jail here last night. Scallo got on a freight train at Woodside yesterday that was headed west. The crew attempted to put him off when Scallo showed fight by drawing a gun. He was later locked in a boxcar and delivered to the officers when the train pulled into Price. He will likely have a hearing tomorrow.

Deeriet Evening News, 24th: "A very artistically appointed dinner party will be given Judge and Mrs. Levi N. Harmon by Prof. and Mrs. J. J. McClellan this evening at the Hotel Utah. The dinner is being served in the private dining room, and violins and roses used in decorating. Intimate friends of the newly married couple will be the guests." "How we apply to float!"

The Sun this week turned out some fine lithographs and printed such certificates for Maudie Skelton company and also a book of the entire class of work for the Utah-Idaho Motor company. The jobs are as good as anything ordered in the East, while outside prices were duplicated. The Sun printer makes a specialty of stock certificates of every kind and description. Over a hundred different sample forms to select from.

Mrs. Carter Woodward of Winter Quarters and Miss Jennie Branch of Salt Lake City were here this week visiting with their mother, Mrs. Ella Branch, and other relatives. Monday last was Mrs. Branch's birthday and in celebration thereof she and her children enjoyed a fine dinner at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. W. Millburn. Mrs. E. T. Rosenhagen and Mrs. John Buchanan, both of Helper, were the invited guests, besides the immediate family.

Prof. W. H. Olin, who has been agricultural commissioner for the Denver and Rio Grande for a couple of years past, has accepted a similar position with the Priceo system, his work to be largely confined to the company's territory in Missouri, helping the farmers in that territory to solve the problem of profitably marketing their crops. One of the deciding factors connected with the change, we are told, is the fact that the new position will allow Professor Olin to be at home much of the time, while his Colorado position took him away from home 80 per cent of the time.

Mrs. F. A. Rompin of Salt Lake City addressed the Young Men's Christian association Monday evening at Helper. During the summer months he is scheduled to deliver a number of lectures to Denver and his friends employ at decision points. Samples of berry boxes used by California shippers have been sent to Heber C. Smith, state food and dairy commissioner, for inspection as to whether they complied with the requirements of the state law. Two types of one-pint containers were submitted. One was found satisfactory and one was disapproved. The Utah law requires that a pint berry basket must contain 23.4 cubic inches. A quart must contain 47.2 cubic inches.

This portion of Carbon county's democracy represented by Neil M. Madison as its chairman and J. A. Crockett as secretary, has been recognized by the state organization as "regular." Two years ago there was a split locally between "the great unwashed" that resulted in two chairmen and two secretaries, in other words, two separate organizations. The local union, composed of the late L. N. Harmon as its chairman and A. W. McKinnon, secretary.

State Highway News of last Friday: "Travelers coming from Price state that the worst section of the road between here and the railroad lies between the head of Gate Canyon and Meigs. The snow is gone except in shaded localities and even this is melting fast. It is said that if present weather conditions continue the roads will be good within a week, except in the park on Soldier Summit, where the snow still remains in the road for a distance of about three miles."

Utah consumers of butter have been paying $26.27 the last year through the operation of the state law requiring every pound of butter to be a full pound, according to estimates made by Heber C. Smith, state dairy and food inspector. Precious to the passage of the law, butter in the Utah market averaged around fifteen cents to the pound. It is estimated that two hundred thousand pounds of butter are used each week. The average price is placed at thirty cents a pound in the commissioner's estimates.

Members of Price's concert band, some twenty in all, are soon to appear in new uniforms. An order was sent last week for the clothes, which are to be of United States grey, neatly trimmed, and in every sense up to date. The suits are purchased at a cost of three hundred and thirty dollars. It was provided by members of the organization without any donations whatever. The uniforms are said to be the best ever sold in Utah. Immediately upon the arrival of the suits the weekly concerts on Main street will be resumed.

Miss Louisa Jensen and Thos. Hansen gave a shower last Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Anderson on North Eighth street to Miss Tillie Elyand, who is to be married Wednesday evening, April 26th, to E. L. Gray, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Elyand of Price. Miss Elyand was the recipient of numerous useful and handsome gifts. This little old lady, who is now 78 years of age, is to be married at home April 27th at American Falls, Ida. They are to be married at 5 o'clock of the evening and are to leave immediately for the Idaho city by way of Salt Lake City.

Concerning Mrs. Mary Laps, who was brought down to Price last week and placed in jail by Marshal Cook of that town, Helper's Times of last Friday says: "Mrs. Laps, since separating from her husband, has acquired the habit of getting her snout full, and then going home and beating up her mother. She engaged in this pleasing pastime Wednesday, and was showing so much ardor and enthusiasm in the work that a Japanese friend of her's felt constrained to interpose. The little old lady, who is now 78 years of age, is to be married at home April 27th at American Falls, Ida. They are to be married at 5 o'clock of the evening and are to leave immediately for the Idaho city by way of Salt Lake City."

Carl R. Williams, now connected with the Los Angeles (Cal.) Times, was high man in the civil service examination recently for executive secretary to the mayor of Los Angeles. The announcement of the civil service commission of that city states that he made the highest marks on the written examinations. Before the appointment is made, however, an oral examination will be had. Of the thirty persons taking the examination only eight passed with a mark of more than 85 per cent. Williams was at one time in the newspaper game at Price, going from here to Salt Lake City after his salary was stopped.

Two hundred and fifty thousand exposition passengers is the record of the Denver and Rio Grande for the period March 1 to December 31, 1915, and more than three hundred thousand and Pacific Coast passengers for the entire calendar year. This performance surpasses all the more remarkable when it is considered that nearly all of these three hundred thousand passengers stopped over en route at one or two points in Colorado and in Utah, thus making the service performed equivalent to that required for a movement several times as great. Notwithstanding this enormous transcontinental movement, together with the heavy local travel, not a passenger was killed during all of 1915.

The Jubilee club met at L. A. Hill's home Saturday evening and woke the school with string music, songs, laughter and lunch. Tuesday it happened to Robert McKinnon at his home on Eighth street. The club is composed of a dozen "free ones," who believe in making life worth the living.

An investigation of the tobacco and liquor dealers in Utah, Idaho and Montana, with a view to disclosing those who have evaded the special emergency tax, and enforcing payment of those taxes, will be begun May 1st, according to J. M. Rogers, special agent in charge of the Salt Lake City division of the internal revenue department. Government figures show that only approximately half of the revenue is coming from tobacco and tobacco, he said.

Roosevelt's Standard takes this fall out of some of the conservation regulations. "The Buckaroo, Herod and correspondents in other papers from Duchesne are continually lauding the Duchesne State and Transportation company to the skies. Among other things it is saying that the mail is getting in at Duchesne at 2 and 3 o'clock. Now, we are very glad they are getting in at such good time, but they never reach Roosevelt until 5 and 7 o'clock in the morning. Those drivers are either slitting off time between here and Duchesne or the writer of those books had better take his timepiece to the watchmaker. It's only thirty-three miles and shouldn't take eighteen hours to make it."

Ellie L. Green is an ardent home Utah, where he has been busy south of Clatskanie, after his miscellaneous interests. Many local people are interested in these claims. Green says that the roads were just getting into shape for hauling out ore over them when a new storm came along and it will probably be a week or ten days before any ore can be shipped. The outlook for the manganese property is wonderful. He says that the market for all the 70 per cent ore that can be mined is waiting in the East and that their ore averages over 80 per cent pure and that as high as $2 per ton has been offered. He believes that the mine will produce heavily this year and that as long as the demand keeps up the output will be heavy.—Grand Junction (Colo.) News, 23th.

Martha Bradley was the recipient of a pleasant surprise last Monday evening at the Bradley home. The troop was encumbered with "vale" and so forth and at once proceeded to have a good time. Circular card cards were indulged in and a reasonable hour refreshments were served and dancing was again in order. At a late hour the young people departed, loudly expressing themselves as to the good time they had had. Those present were Misses Janet Twaddle, Irma Gibson, Lola Leonard, Oswald Woods, Della Millburn, Afton Wilson, Gienna Omderson, Elsie Branch, Martha Bradley, Lilla Morley, Grace Frandsen and Harold Leonard, Magnus Frandsen, Carl Frandsen, Bryan Olson, Hulon Frandsen, Lyle French, Bert Lee, Carl Averill, Elton Bryner, Nellie Whitmore, Scott Fausett and Matt Lauber.

Three youths from the East lodged in County Jail. Three young fellows were taken from a west bound freight train at Price last Monday and lodged in the county jail. They gave their names to the sheriff's office as Paul Botterston, aged 18 years, Kansas City, Mo.; Claude Stafford, aged 17 years, field, Mo.; and Edward Wilson, 19 years, from East St. Louis, Ills. They are said to have been caught in pilfering a car of merchandise of the Denver and Rio Grande near Green River by the conductor of the train. Upon discovery of the thieving the conductor locked the doors of the car in which the youths were making their way west until Price was reached, when officers here were of the depot to meet them. The young men were all wearing new shoes stolen from shipments in the car. They were headed west, they say, and had no particular destination in view. Trainmen report considerable thievery of late on this division of the Denver and Rio Grande system.

BOXCAR THIEVES TAKEN

Young Botterston and Eddie Wilson had a hearing before a local justice on Tuesday and were bound over for trial at the next term of the district court. The other, Stafford, has been taken in charge by the juvenile officer.

SCOFIELD MAKES STRONG BID FOR "BETTER BABIES" CHAMPIONSHIP

Not all the "better babies" in Utah are in Salt Lake City, and by that same token, not all the interest in the Telegram's series of "better babies" pictures, appearing in this newspaper during the observance of "Better Babies" week, was in Salt Lake City, says the Telegram of last Sunday. Scofield (Utah) makes her bid for "better babies" fame, by nominating Joseph Droyles Parnley, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Parnley, for a place in the "better babies" class. Of course Mr. and Mrs. Parnley would have their son designated as "best baby," but in that there is likely to be a difference of opinion in several thousands of other Utah homes, so a decision on that subject will not be made at this time. Joseph Droyles Parnley is 2 1/2

ARBOR DAY PLANS

High School Pupils to Plant Trees and Beautify Grounds. Arbor Day, April 15th, is going to be a big day at the Carbon County High school. The pupils with the permission of the faculty, and their help as well, are going to make it a holiday for the purpose of cleaning up the campus and planting trees. Afterwards the girls will serve luncheon to the boys, and in the evening the gym girls are going to give a grand ball. Something unusual is going to take place, it is said, that will be announced later. Miss Rhoda Pace received the prize recently awarded for making the best combination soil at the least expense. The soil cost only fifty-nine cents. Miss Agnes MacLean received the prize for the most elaborate dress, the cost being limited to $1.25. Both the prizes were "extra size" angel food cakes. Mrs. Anna Otto is the originator of this plan and has given the prize every year herself. The contest serves as a good encouragement for the girls to plan their dresses before they buy them. It also gives them experience in buying that they may get the best value for their money. In almost all high schools in the state uniform dresses have been adopted for graduation. Since the senior class has always been unified and its members have acted together on everything, it has been decided to have the graduation dresses alike, and to limit the cost to four dollars. The dresses will be made very attractive at this price as the girls will trim them with their own handwork. Last week the students were entertained in chapel by Herman Gubler, a brother to Prof. John G. Gubler, principal of the high school. Storage batteries repaired and recharged.
